North West Territory.

From the general desire prevailing for information as to the precise nature of the negotiations for the transfer of the Northwest territory, we gladly give the latest news received upon the matter, and which may be fairly considered satisfactory, although there is a slight difference existing as to the transfer to Canada, and the compensation to the Hudson Bay Company. "The question respecting the Hudson Bay territory stands thus: The two Canadian Chambers have addressed the Crown, under sec. 147 of the Canada Confederation Act of last year, to annex, by an Order in Council, Rupert's Land tical dignity or benefice in Ireland in the Wastern territory, to the Dogist of Her Majesty, or to which any and the Western territory, to the Dominion, and this the Crown is bound Ender the somewhat stringent terms of the Act to do, on receiving that address. Two matters remain to be arranged, and may possibly give rise to difficulty; first, the question of compensation for the extinction of such rights as the Hudson Bay Company are acknowledged to possess; and, secondly, the claims of the Company to the Western territory. The Canadian Government insist that, un. der the terms of the Act, annexation shall take place first, and compensation be discussed afterwards; while the Company naturally prefer to arrange the compensation before the Order in Council issues. Again Canada contends that the Western territory had belonged to France until after the Treaty of Quebec in 1761, and could not have been included in the charter of Charles II., dated 1670, which assigned to the Company Rupert's Land, then only in possession of the English Crown. Mr. Adderly stated but recently that the new gotiations were not in a condition to justify him in stating either their nature or their progress." A writer to the Toronto Globe from London says he can supplement the above by some further information of an authentic nature. It is said the law officers of the Crown have advised Her Majesty that it is not legally competent for the Crown to transfer the Hudson Bay Company's territories in the exact manner proposed by Canuda. The English authorities contend that the Company had acquired bona fide legal rights which the Crown was bound to recognize and deal with equitably, or in other words, the terms of compensation must be settled before the country be ceded to Canada. On this opinion being given, the Colonial Min-isser re-opened negotiations with the A STATE OF THE PARTY OF THE PAR 000 should be given in compensation and The Russian Campaign Against the secured in the shape of a royalty on the sale of land, and on licenses for working the gold mines. In addition the Company will retain the fee simple of a quantity of land near the various stations: It is said the period of payment of the £1,100,000 will extend over along period of years, perbaps till time is no more; though we confess, we cannot see the object of stipulating the payment of so large a sum and not the date of payment. The arrangement, however, has been

York have issued a perpetual injunction against Eaton and Jenkins for counterfeiting Aver's Cathartic Pills holding them responsible for the cruel imposition in what they have done and restraining them from further like injury to the public. If any class of onr people more than another needs the interposition of law to shield them from imposture, it is the sick and suffering who are unable to protect themselves. A remedy so universally employed as Ayer's Pills by all classes, both to cure and prevent disease, should as it does, have every security the law can afford it, from counterfeit and imitation. #### Suspensory Bill.

The following is the text of this much-

A BILL TO PREVENT, FOR A LIMITED TIME, NEW APPOINTMENTS IN THE CHURCH OF IRELAND, AND TO RESTRAIN, FOR THE SAME PERIOD, IN CERTAIN RESPECTS, THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE ECCLESIASTICAL COMMISSIONERS FOR IRELAND.

Whereas Her Majesty has been graci-ously pleased to signify that she has placed at the disposal of Parliament for the purposes of legislation during the present Session her interest in the temporalities of the several archbishoprics, bishoprics, and other ecclesiastical dignities and benefices in Ireland, and in the custody thereof :

And whereas it is expedient to prevent the creation of new personal interests in the Established Church in Ireland through the exercise of any public patronage, and to restrain in certain respects the powers of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for Ireland :

Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :-1. In case of the vacancy of any archbishopric or bishopric, or of any ecclesias Archbishop, Bishop, or other Ecclesiastical Corporation as such, or any trustee or trustees acting in a public capacity, are or shall be entitled to present or appoint, it shall not be lawful to appoint any person to succeed to such archbishopric, bishopric, dignity, or benefice, and upon the happening of such vacancy agement and receipt of the rents and profits of all the lands, tithes, and other emoluments appertaining to such archbishopric, bishopric, dignity, or benefice, shall be transferred to and vested in the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for Ireland subject to all charges legally affecting the same, and the said Commissioners shall have power to grant renewals and do all other acts which may be necessary for the due and proper management thereof, and shall cause the same and the proceeds thereof to be kept distinct from all other funds, to be disposed of in such manner as Parliament shall direct.

2. In case of the vacancy of any arch. bishopric or bishopric, the person designated by the 31st section of the 3d and 4th William IV., chapter 37, to execute the powers of the said Act during such vacancy, shall be the guardian of the spiritualities of such archbishopric or bishopric; and in case of the vacancy of any benefice with cure of souls, all the powers and authorities granted by the 116th section of the said Act for supplying the spiritual wants of suspended benefices shall apply and be exercised in respect of such vacant benefice by the same persons and in the same manner as therein directed, provided that in regulating the salary of the officiating minister regard shall be had to the nature and extent of the duties to be discharged.

3. It shall not be lawful for the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for Ireland to make any new grant for the building, re-building, or enlarging of any church or chapel, or for the building of any glebe house, or the augmentation of any benefice, or the maintenance of any minister, or the purchase of any house, land, or tithe rent charge.

4. Every person who shall be appointed to any lay office in connexion with the Established Church in Ireland, after the passing of this Act shall hold the office subject to the pleasure of Parliament.

5. This Act shall continue in force until the first day of August, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine."

Bokharas.

[From the Invalide Russe of St Petersburg, May 29th.] The country lying to the west of Djuzak is mostly inhabited by the dregs of the populations of our possessions as well as those of Bokhara. With a view to protecting from their depredations the peaceful inhabitants of the territory situated between the last peaks of the mountains of Kaschgar Davane and the Astonomacan Tank and the Syc Daria, it was decided that a fort should be built on the southwest limit of the country in the radius of the fortress of Djuzak. A detachment composed of three companies of infantry, a sornia of Cossacks, a section of The arrangement, however, has been accepted by both parties, and in order to legalize the transaction, a bill has by this time been submitted to and passed the Euglish Parliament. No opposition was anticipated to the bill from any quarter. We fully expect to receive the final decision upon this important matter by next mail.

It was thereupon resolved to attack the Bokharans and to take Oakhoun. The artillery and the luggage was left at the entrance of the pass under the guard of a company of infantry, and the other troops were led to the heights. The impetuosity of the attack under Captain Dennek, discouraged the Bokharans, who fled away, leaving on the field two cannons, a large number of guns and swords, and three pennons. Oakhoun was taken and partly destroyed. #### Loss of the U.S. Steamer Suwance.

It is our unpleasant duty to record the loss of this vessel, which left our port on Tuesday 7th inst, on her way to Silka. The facts of this event, as gathered from the most 'ieliable sources, are given as follows: On Thursday morning the 9th inst., at a quarter past six o'clock, while proceeding through Shadwell passage, Queen Charlotte Sound, N W coast of B C., taking the inside channel or that on the West of Centre Island, the Suwanee struck on a rock, the existence of which was previously unknown. This channel is represented on the charts as clear of danger; and the directions on entering it in the Vancouver Pilot instructions, distinctly state the passage to be clear and sitting all and the Island. The rock on which the vessel struck is about 150 yards from the west side of this Island, and as already stated, is not marked. Unfortunately soon after the accident, the tide fell rapidly, and the vessel broke to pieces and may be considered a total wreck. The water was perfectly calm at the time. The eaptain, we understand exonerates all carties from blame. Fortunately H M S Sparrowhawk was met by an officer of the Suwanee on coming down for assistance, and he returned with her to the ill-fated vessel; so that in every probability all the light stores, ammunition, arms, and personal effects of officers and men would be saved. Despatches were forwarded to Admiral Hastings who immediately did everything that could be done to render assistance and despatched the gunboat Forward to Port Townsend, to inforn Admiral Thatcher, U S flagship Pensacola, of the untoward event. It appears the Suwanee (donble ender) was not a strongly built boat; her plates are described as very light, and totally unsuited for a vessel carrying her armament. She was built for river service by the Government during the American civil war. The manner in which she broke to pieces seems to confirm this statement. But although no one may be to blame in the mats ter, we cannot but state that the wreck of the Suwanee is an accident which we regret in common with the community. Of course there will be an official examination, and we trust it will end, as we are led to expect, in a full exoneration of all concerned, and as the result of an occident that could neither be anticipated nor prevented; especially as by

Consecration of the Naval Cemetery.

The consecration of the Naval burial ground at Esquimalt took place yesterday. The ceremony was one of solemnity and interest, nor is it likely that those who took part in it can soon lose the memory of the picus work of setting apart this special place, where the bodies of the gallant seamer may rest in peace until the general resurrection at the last day.

The Bishop, accompanied by the Dean and Archdeacon, was received on his arrival at the gate of the burial ground by Reverends A C Garrett, T Hamilton, F Gribbell, -Buckley and J Reynard. The petition praying the Bishop to consecrate the ground for a burial place was then read by Admiral Hastings, to which His Lordship signified his consent in the usual form.

The opening prayer of the Consecration Service being then offered by the Bishop the procession was formed, the Bishop and clergy leading, followed by the Admiral and officers; the men who have been engaged in clearing and fencing the ground bringing up the rear. As the procession moved slowly forward the words of the hymn 'Come let us join our friends above,' rose solemnly through the summer air, drowned at first in some degree by the louder tones of the Zealous band; but as the procession passed round by the rear of the Cemetery chapel the words were distinctly heard, and who that was there but must have telt their own personal interest in the work as they united themselves with those gone before. As the hymn drew to a close the circuit of the portion of ground to be consecrated was completed, and the Bishop and Clergy entered the chapel as the closing words of the hymn died away. The Bishop, standing at the north side of the table within the chapel, waited a few moments while those who formed the procession filed into the building and took up their several positions, and all being quietly arranged the prayers of consecration were said. The Sentence of Consecration was then read by the Registrar of the Diocese, E G Alston, Esq, and signed by the Bishop. The Hundredth Psalm, sung most boartily by all present, sustained as it was by the band stationed outside the chapel, was a most fitting close to the service, and the Bishop having pronounced the blessing the assembly quietly and reverently dispersed.
The cemetery is divided into three sections
—one for Episcopalians, one for Catholics and one for Dissenters; and the chapel remains unconsecrated for the common use of
